The latest wrinkle is the flower muff. It takes the place of the corsage bouquet. This new innovation was introduced at a wedding in New York, instead of carrying the customary shower bouquet. It was suspended from her neck on a broad moire ribbon that was caught in a knot and allowed to fall where the corsage bouquet is worn. The muff itself was made of a mass of bouze and yellow button chrysanthemums placed so closed together that they give the effect of being a fabric or a new shade of fur.

ZIMMIE THE WISE OLD OWL HAS BEEN CAUGHT WITH PLOT GOODS

PRESIDENT CONFIRMS THE AUTHENTICITY OF INFORMATION

Plot of German High Official Exposed to Incite War Against United States by Japan and Mexico—International Conspiracy to Violate Neutrality.

Washington, March 2.—Aroused by the disclosure of Germany's plot to unite Japan and Mexico with her in a war upon the United States and then convinced by official evidence of its authenticity, congress Thursday abandoned the delays and obstructions which have checked President Wilson's efforts to be clothed with express authority to deal with the submarine menace.

The house after a ten hour debate and by 403 to 13 passed a bill to empower the president to arm merchant ships and providing for a $100,000,000 bond issue. The bill, however, does not contain the grant of authority to use "other instrumentalities," which the president specifically desires and would prevent government insurance for munition ships a provision which the president does not approve.

When the house bill is received in the senate tomorrow, the senate bill, which the president recommends, will be substituted and this is expected finally to become a law.

In the senate an attempt by Senator Stone, Dem., to ask the president to disclose the government's source of information of the attempted intrigue with Mexico and Japan, on the supposition that it came from one of Germany's enemies, was defeated after a sharp and sensational debate. Instead the senate merely asked for official notice of the authenticity of the dispatch from the German foreign minister to Minister von Eckhardt in Mexico City. The president transmitted it immediately with the statement that it would not be compatible with the public interest to reveal further details concerning it.

DOCUMENT IN HANDS OF PRESIDENT.

This document has been in the hands of the government since President Wilson broke relations with Germany. It has been kept secret while the president was asking congress for full authority to deal with Germany and while congress has been hesitating. It was in the president's hands while Chancellor von Bethman-Hollweg was declaring the United States had placed an interpretation on the submarine declaration.

"Never intended by Germany," that Germany has promoted honored relations with the United States as an heirloom from Frederick the Great. Of itself, if there were no other, it is considered an efficient answer to the German chancellor's plan of giving "authentic reasons for action."

MISSING LINK IN CHAIN OF CIRCUMSTANCES.

The document supplies the missing link to many separate chains of circumstances, which until now, seem to lead to no definite point. It sheds new light upon frequently reported, but undefinable movements of the Mexican government to couple its situation with friction between the United States and Japan.

It adds another chapter to the celebrated report of Jules Cambon, French ambassador at Berlin before the war, of Germany's world-wide plan for stirring strife on every continent where they might aid her in her struggle for world domination, which she dreamed was close at hand. It adds the climax to the operations of Count von Bernstorff and the German embassy in this country, which has been colored with passport frauds, charges of dynamite plots and intrigues which has never been published.

SUBMARINE BASE IN GULF OF MEXICO.

It gives new credence to persistent reports that there are submarine bases in Mexican territory in the Gulf of Mexico.

It takes cognizance of a fact long recognized by American army chiefs that if Japan ever undertook to invade the United States it probably would be through Mexico, over the border into the Mississippi valley, to split the country in two.

It is a new explanation to the recent arrest on the border of men charged by American military authorities with being German intelligence agents.

Lastly it seemed to show connection with Gen. Carranza's recent proposals to neutrals that the export of food and munitions to the entente allies be cut off, and an intimation that he might stop the supply of oil, so vital to the British navy, which is exported from Tampico fields.

PRISONER STICKS FAST

While Trying To Escape Through a Small Hole In County Jail.

RELEASED AFTER 6 HOURS

Two Others Had Preceded Him Into Corridor--Schemed To Attack Mullen.

What might have been a jail delivery was thwarted Wednesday night when a white prisoner named Frank Parker became fastened in a hole through which he was trying to escape from a cage. One bar in one of the cages was cut, making a hole 6 1/2 inches by 11 inches. Abe Anderson white, weighing about 150 pounds, and Tom Pool, colored, 176 pounds, managed to get through. Parker was smaller than either of the others, but stuck fast in the hole. This occurred at 8 p. m. and at 10 p. m. Parker gave up the attempt and called Jailer Mullins, and it took him about four hours to get the man out. Hugh McShane, the plumber, was called in, but his saws would not cut the next bar and Parker was finally pulled back into the cell by soaping his body and with the assistance of Lieut. Hawkins and Patrolman Barnett. The other two men were still in the corridor, as the hole did not let them out of the building. Their plan evidently was to overpower the jailer, when he came in.

The bar of iron cut was defective, having been filed to some extent several years ago.

PROPOSED AN ALLIANCE WITH MEXICO AND JAPAN

Proposes to Help Mexico Reconquer Texas, New Mexico and Arizona While Professing Good Will For This Country.

Washington, Mar. 2.—The Associated Press is enabled to reveal that Germany, in planning unrestricted submarine warfare and counting its consequences, proposed an alliance with Mexico and Japan to make war upon the United States, if this country should not remain neutral.

Japan, through Mexican machination, was to be urged to abandon her allies and join in an attack upon the United States.

Mexico, for her reward, was to receive general financial support from Germany, reconquer Texas, New Mexico and Arizona, her lost provinces, and share in the victorious peace terms the Germans contemplated.

Details were left to the German minister, Von Eckhardt, in Mexico City, who, by instructions signed by German Foreign Minister Zimmerman, at Berlin, January 19, 1917, was directed to propose an alliance with Mexico to General Carranza and to suggest that Mexico seek to bring Japan into the plot.

These instructions were transmitted to Von Eckhardt through Count von Bernstorff, former German ambassador here, now on his way home under safe conduct obtained from his enemies by the country against which he was plotting war.

Germany pictured to Mexico, by broad intimations, that England and the entente allies would be defeated and Germany and her allies triumphant in world domination by means of the instrument of unrestricted submarine warfare.

MURDERED WOMAN'S SON

Calls Upon His Country To Preserve Its Self-Respect ---Ready to Fight.

Washington, Feb. 28.—President Wilson has received the following cablegram from Austin Y. Hoy, whose mother and sister were lost when the Laconia was torpedoed without warning by a German submarine:

"I am an American citizen representing the Sullivan Machinery Company, of Chicago, living abroad not as an expatriate but for the promotion of American trade. I love the flag, believing in its significance. My beloved mother and sister, passengers on the Laconia, have been foully murdered on the high seas.

"As an American citizen outraged and as such fully within my rights as an American son and brother bereaved, I call upon my government to preserve its citizens' self respect and save others of my countrymen from such deep grief as I now feel. I am of military age, able to fight. If my country can use me against these brutal assassins I am at its call.

"If it stultifies my manhood and my Nation's by remaining passive under outrage, I shall seek a man's chance under another flag."

Two Weeks Suspension.

Prof. Lowe Johnson, Principal of the Kelly School, has been suspended for two weeks on account of the prevalence of mumps and measles in that section.

marine warfare. The copy of Zimmerman's instructions to Von Eckhardt, sent through Count von Bernstorff is in the possession of the United States government. It follows:

GERMAN FOREIGN MINISTERS' INSTRUCTIONS.

"Berlin, Jan. 19, 1917.—On the first day of February we intend to begin submarine warfare unrestricted. In spite of this it is our intention to endeavor to keep the United States of America neutral. If this attempt is not successful we propose an alliance on the following basis with Mexico:

"That we shall make war together to make peace. We shall give general financial support, and it is understood that Mexico is to reconquer the lost territory of New Mexico, Texas and Arizona. The details will be left with you for settlement.

"You are instructed to inform the president of Mexico of the above in the greatest confidence as soon as it is certain there will be an outbreak of war with the United States, and suggest to the president of Mexico that on his own initiative, he should communicate with Japan, suggesting at once this plan and at the same time offer to mediate between Germany and Japan.

"Please call to the attention of the president of Mexico that the employment of ruthless submarine warfare now promises to compel England to make peace within a few months."

DETAINING FOUR CONSULS

Germany Holds As Hostages Americans In the Consular Service.

Washington, Feb. 28.—Four American consuls are being detained in Germany while the Berlin government awaits official advice that all German consuls in this country ordered to Central and South America have been permitted to proceed.

The German government's action was based on circumstances which, through no concern of the United States, detained Consul Mueller at Havana, Cuba, while he was en route from Atlanta to Equito, Ecuador.

The American consuls detained in Germany are Consul Henry C. A. Damm, transferred from Aachen for Harput, Turkey; Consul John Q. Wood, transferred from Chemnitz to Messina; Vice Consul W. Bruce Wallace, transferred from Magdeburg to Constantinople, and Vice Consul C. L. Luss Browne, transferred from Mannheim to Constantinople.

Two notes have been received from the German government on the subject; the last a week ago, charging that the United States had detained Mueller at Havana, and a second day asking for a reply to the first, and also containing a statement that their wives departing from Germany had been subjected to indignities, and added that as soon as Mueller had been allowed to proceed the American consuls could go on.

Better Than Athletics

The question of military training in public schools is attracting wide attention and Dr. W. S. Small in a chapter on educational hygiene in the annual report of the Commissioner of Education, Department of the Interior, takes this stand: "Military training in the schools conceived as military drilling is undesirable and unavailing;
military training conceived as a comprehensive program of physical, moral and civic education is desirable and even necessary." He goes ahead to show the superiority of military training over gymnastics and athletics.
They are the philosophy of play while military training fosters ideals of patriotism. The report describes and discusses the so-called "Wyoming plan" originated by Capt. E. Z. Steever, U. S. A., outlines the plans of the New York military commission in relation to physical training, and analyzes the relation of military training to school organization, concluding that "military training in the strict and technical sense will not be grafted upon the schools, but military training in the sense of a comprehensive program for physical, moral and civic education in which some appropriate military affairs may be included is likely to find its way into all schools."
The training of all boys in military tactics is the logical way to promote preparedness in the nation. With every citizen a trained soldier, volunteers and new recruits would enter the service well drilled and ready for duty.

ing postal appropriations for another

DEVICE SAVES MANY STEPS

Simple Arrangement Which Insures Constant Supply of Running Water in the Farm Kitchen.

In most farmhouses, even nowadays, there is no running water. The farmer's wife must go to a pump, which is perhaps far enough from the dwelling to require many steps to and fro in the course of a day. How may these steps be saved? And how may the luxury of running water in the house be easily and cheaply obtained?

The new idea (originated by a farmer's wife) is illustrated by an accompanying diagram, which makes it plain at a glance. A barrel stands on a shelf attached to the outside of the house. It is filled with water by a force pump. From the lower part of the barrel a short piece of pipe runs horizontally through the house-wall into the kitchen, terminating in a fau-

Diagram Showing How Any Dwelling
Can Be Supplied With Running Water at Small Expense.

et. Beneath the faucet is a sink, which is provided with a waste-pipe to carry off the water. Nothing could be more simple, as well as convenient.
If the barrel is pumped full once a day, it will supply the housewife's ordinary needs. The cost of the entire outfit ought not to be more than $10.

TWELVE QUESTIONS FOR COOK

Kitchen Executive Who Can Say "Yes"
to Them All May Consider Herself Proficient.

Can you, granted you have good materials, make really good coffee?

Can you make good reliable white sauce, and can you make it of any given thickness as you wish?

Can you make good meat gravy, free from lumps and grease?

Are you thoroughly familiar with one simple cake mixture, so that you can always depend on the results?

Are you sufficiently familiar with your own oven to bake cake or bread or muffins without burning them?

Do you know at least five ways of cooking meats of lower prices into tender, tempting dishes, such as stews, meat loaf, etc.?

Can you cook bacon so that it goes to the table unburned and thoroughly cooked?

Can you make uniformly good bread?
Can you make uniformly good pie crust?

Can you cook the ordinary vegetables in at least one way so that they are appetizing and nutritious?

Do you know at least six ways of cooking potatoes?—Exchange.

Sweetbreads With Bacon.

Soak the sweetbreads in lukewarm water for a couple of hours; then put in boiling water and simmer gently for five or ten minutes, according to size; when taken up lay in cold water. When quite cold, dry them and cut into dice-shaped pieces. Put them to cook in a little water with two ounces of butter and salt in it. Let the water gradually cook away and then cover the sweet-breads with cream. When this is hot, thicken with a little flour blended with butter; stir into the mixture two beaten egg yolks and serve on rounds of toast. Surround the sweetbreads with thin slices of broiled crisp bacon.

Mixed Cheese.

Ten cents' worth cream cheese, ten cents' worth Roquefort, one tablespoonful butter, two green peppers, one large Bermuda onion, one-half stalk of celery. Rub the Roquefort and cream cheese and butter to a smooth paste, add the finely chopped onion, pepper and celery and mix well and season with paprika. Put in tinfoil to harden, then serve with hot toasted crackers.

Horseradish Sauce.

Horseradish sauce is made by mixing
in a bowl a teaspoonful of mustard, teaspoonful of vinegar, half teaspoonful of salt and a little pepper. Break on this mixture the yolks of two eggs and beat with an eggbeater. Add olive oil until a thick sauce results, and then add a tablespoonful of grated horseradish.

Cheap Cake.

One cupful of sugar, half cupful butter or lard, one cupful sour milk, one teaspoonful soda, two and one-half cupfuls pastry flour, little salt, cinnamon or clove, one cupful raisins, the same amount of currants put through food chopper and a little citron sliced
in. Bake in a greased cake pan.

Pickle Won't Mold.

Pickles may be kept from becoming moldy by putting a little bag of mustard on the top of the pickle jar.

replied the theatrical manager, "but I'm afraid most of our scenery is too

DIRECTIONS FOR PLAIN CAKE

Simple Confection to Serve at Lunchcon or to Follow the Sunday Evening Supper.

One and one-half cupfuls of pastry flour or one and one-eighth cupfuls bread flour, two teaspoonfuls baking powder, speck of salt, one-fourth teaspoonful grated nutmeg, one-fourth cupful butter, one cupful sugar, two eggs, one-half cupful milk. With a plain cake as a foundation many variations may be made. Substitute one-half teaspoonful of vanilla or lemon extract for the nutmeg. For a white or silver cake omit the egg yolks and use the whites only, more may be added for layer cake. Bake in shallow pans of equal size and when cooked place filling between the layers.

Millon cake may be made by dividing the latter into two or more equal parts. Color one or more and bake each portion separately, then place in layers with jelly between. A richer cake may be made by using twice the quantity of butter and one-fourth cupful more of flour should then be added. For raisin or nut cake add one-half cupful of seeded raisins or chopped nuts, sprinkle with two tablespoonfuls of flour and add to sifted dry ingredients. Currants or citron may also be added. Dark cake may be made by adding molasses, spices, cocon, etc. Add flour to make the batter of required consistency. For marble cake put a portion of plain or white cake into the baking pan, scatter a spoonful of a dark cake mixture over it and cover with remainder of the light mixture.

DAINTIES FOR LUNCH BASKET

Take Only a Little Time to Prepare and Will Be Appreciated by the Schoolgirl or Boy.

Tiny buttered ten rolls, potato salad (in small jar), sponge cake, coffee (in small bottle).

Brown bread sandwiches, stuffed eggs, vanilla cookies.

Nut sandwiches, cold roast veal, cake of sweet chocolate.

Date sandwiches, jar of chicken salad, apple turnovers.

Plain bread and butter sandwich,
cold roast beef, stuffed dates.

If possible, through the winter months it would be well to have small jars of chowder, soups, coffee, tea, cocon, or anything that may be reheated.
These may be placed in dishes of hot water over gas or heated in any way to make a warm lunch for the girls.

German Kuchen.

Take one quart of milk, one cupful of butter and lard mixed and scald.
When cool add two cupfuls of sugar, two cupfuls salt, one yeast cake and about 11 cupfuls of flour. Be sure and not have the dough too stiff. Raise over night. In the morning roll out one-half inch thick and lay on rows of apples. Sprinkle with sugar and cinnamon and raise a little while.
Bake till the apples are tender.

Cinnamon Kuchen.—Roll the same as for above. Then take three common crackers rolled fine and the same amount of sugar with a little cinnamon and mix together. Spread little bits of butter on the cakes and then cover with the mixture of crackers and sugar.

Kuchen Loaf.—Cut one-fourth cupful raisins fine and add to some of the dough and raise and bake the same as bread.

Fruit Salad.

Take any fruits in season, and pare and cut them into neat pieces.
Bananas, pineapple and pears make a good combination, and orange quarters may be added too, with the seeds and thin, tough skin covering the quarters removed. Put all the fruit into a deep bowl, the pineapple on top. Sprinkle sugar thickly on top, and add lemon juice and water in the proportion of one part of lemon juice to four parts of water. Add enough liquid barely to cover the fruit. Let the whole stand for some hours, then stir up from the bottom and serve with whipped cream.

Sarcophagus of Alexander the Great

One of the greatest masterpieces of ancient art is the Sarcophagus of Alexander the Great. It was discovered in 1881 by men who were excavating near Sidon. It is constructed from a pure white block of Pontic marble, eleven feet long, five and three-fourths feet wide and four and two-thirds feet high, and is surmounted by a lid nearly three feet high. The relief sculpture on the front represents a victory of Alexander.

We are prepared to execute the order for an imposing sarcophagus or a simple modern memorial tablet.

The smallest order is executed with as painstaking attention to details as one of larger dimensions.

HORSES and PIGS and CATTLE

OATS SUPERIOR FOR HORSES

Most Satisfactory Single Grain Ration—Musty Oats Are Dangerous—Feed Roughage.

In comparison with any of the grain rations, oats are the best single grain ration for both mature horses and colts and for mules. There is no other grain so safe to feed and from which such satisfactory results are obtained. The live stock experts of Clemson college advise, however, that it is absolutely necessary that oats be clean and entirely free from mold in order to obtain best results in feeding to colts. "Musty" oats are dangerous to colts.

A fair allowance of oats for colts after weaning is as follows.

Up to one year of age, from 2 to 3 pounds daily.

From one to three years, 7 to 8 pounds daily.

The best way to feed oats is in the whole grain, the expense of crushing not being justified unless colts suffer in teething, in which case it is advisable to feed stemmed crushed oats, which are very nourishing and appetizing. It is always wise to feed plenty of roughage to growing colts. Feeding concentrated feeds in excess is discouraged, as it is important that the digestive tract be developed by distending it during the growing period. Ungulately, large-barreled colts may annoy the feeder, but this condition always disappears with maturity.

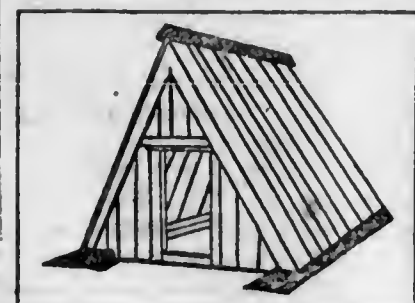

Proper feeding of colts should always be accompanied by plenty of outdoor exercise for the young animal. In no way can a colt be ruined so easily and surely as by liberal feeding with lack of exercise. Close confinement and the raising of good colts do not go together.

SUPPLY BROOD SOW SHELTER

Structure May Be Good Without Being Expensive—It Should Be Warm and Ventilated.

(By L. A. WEAVER, Missouri College of Agriculture.)

Extremes of cold and heat injure hogs more than any other class of domestic animals, and it is especially necessary to furnish good shelter for the brood sow. The shelter may be good without being expensive, but it should be warm and ventilated, dry and so arranged that as much sunshine as possible may get in to keep it dry and healthy.

Portable "A" Hog House.

Sunshine is a great germ killer, but should be aided by lime sprinkled where it will help control cholera and other diseases. Don't cut off the returns from the mortgage-raiser by supplying wet floors, filth, and dark quarters.

Individual hog cots and houses serve a good purpose at farrowing time.

ROUGHNESS GOOD FOR SHEEP

Animals Are Able to Consume Considerable Quantity of Stover, Straw, Hay and Silage.

Sheep are able to consume considerable roughage such as stover, straw, hay and silage.

For this reason they are able to convert coarse farm products into mutton and wool. With pasture and roughage not much grain is required to fatten the animals.

WHEN TO WEAN LITTLE PIGS

Nature Teaches Sow Best Time—Litter Suckling at Two Months Is Most Profitable.

Nature has taught the sow and teaches the little pigs when they should be weaned.

Sometimes the sow suckling the litter two months old pays big, for the pigs make enough more growth to pay for the extra feed.

BOTTLE-TIGHT SHEEP BARN

Provide Proper Ventilation With Doors Opening to the South—Exercise in Sheltered Yard.

The sheep barn should be bottle-tight with the proper ventilation, with big doors opening to the south.

These doors should be open on pleasant days, so the sheep can exercise in a sheltered yard.

RIDE OF PAULINE REVERE

It Differed in a Mild Degree From Her Ancestor's and Alarmed Her Guardian.

This is a story of the midnight ride of Miss Revere. It was Pauline instead of Paul—his great-granddaughter from Dana Hall who caused the alarms in several Middlesex valleys and farms.

Pauline, the great-granddaughter of Paul, had left Pine Manor, post-graduate school of Dana Hall school, to spend the holidays at the home of her guardian, Mrs. Nathaniel Thayer of Lancaster.

Well, it seems that hours went by and Pauline didn't appear. Mrs. Thayer usurped part of the Paul Revere program and started spreading the alarm herself.

Meanwhile, Pauline was attending scrupulously to the rest of her ancestral duties. She was having the ride.

Miss Revere took a couple of her classmates along with her to Charlestown and the historic spot whence her celebrated great-grandfather, the original designer of New England's most famous tourist-toured ride, started out. There she and her friends piled into the fur robes of a specially chartered sleigh and set out to do Paul Revere's ride de luxe as it should be done.

It was a great ride the girls had, while the telephone company, several telegraph operators and two railroads were joining forces with Mrs. Thayer and the Dana Hall school authorities in a frantic search. The alarm ended only when Pauline drove into Lancaster.—Boston Post.

COURT EQUIPS CUPID'S BOWER

Chicago Judge, With Idea of Battling Divorce, Fits Up an Ideal Room for Spooning.

Husbands and wives who allow their troubles to reach the court of domestic relations will be given an opportunity to "make up" in a little room attached to the court which is being fitted up for that purpose by Judge John Sisk. The judge has not given the room a name yet, but he said it will be fitted up in a way aimed to aid the disgruntled in renewing their love for one another. Plants, flowers, canary birds, a music box and soft draperies will contribute to the furnishings.

"The purpose of the fittings will be to bring out the old affection that the couple held for each other when they were courting," said the judge. "It is my purpose to get them to spoon all over again and then go home and live as they ought to."—Chicago News.

Uses for Postcards.

Mount the pretty cards on colored cardboard five by eight inches, attaching a cord or ribbon to the two upper corners for hanging. The recipients of a missionary box in China, were delighted with groups of six cards mounted on colored cardstock, which had been pinned around the edges. The missionaries declared "they were pretty enough to hang in our own home," but they were sent to some of the schools, and delighted the pupils, who see few attractive things. The children could easily make these gifts for those across the sea.

The pretty motto and greeting cards may be converted into things of use as well as beauty, for the scholars in our home mission schools. Get a bundle of hloters of different colors. Have the children cut them into postcard size and carefully paste them over the writing on used cards. When given to the pupils they prove of great help to them as well as to their teachers.—Exchange.

Brazil's Wealth in Iron Ore.

Brazil is said to have the largest known deposits in the world of 70 per cent iron ore, practically free from phosphorus. The state of Minas Geras alone is estimated to have 1,500,000,000 to 2,000,000,000 tons about 300 to 400 miles from the seacoast, and bodies of iron ore exist in other states of Brazil, according to Percival Farquhar in an address at a meeting of the federal trade council, New Orleans. Our eastern mills, says the Engineering Record, whose expansion should take a new phase with our increasing export of steel and steel products, can use this ore to advantage, as well as Europe, where it will allow low-grade and high phosphorus ores to be used by mixture.

Co-Operative Movement Grows.

The last International Co-Operative alliance congress, held in Glasgow, Scotland, in 1914, was composed of 24 national units, including something like 130,000 separate co-operative societies, with a total of about 20,000,000 members. If each member is considered to represent a family of four, the number of persons directly affected by the co-operative movement in Europe when the war began was about 80,000,000, more than the entire population of the United States in 1900, and the value of the business done by these societies was estimated to be about $2,000,000,000.—London Times.

Russia Plans Biological Station.

The Imperial Academy of Sciences of Petrograd is planning to establish a biological station on the shore of Lake Baikal. This lake, which in places is more than a mile deep, has a remarkable fauna, some of its fishes not being found anywhere else in the world. Some of the species are very ancient, and are supposed to be vestiges of the prehistoric fauna which existed in the Cretaceous period.

FARM STOCK

DAILY GROOMING FOR HORSE

It Gives Animal Excellent Appearance and Stimulates Circulation—Time Well Spent.

A few minutes spent daily in currying and brushing a horse is time well spent, in the opinion of David Gray, assistant in animal husbandry in the Kansas State Agricultural college. Aside from giving the animal a clean, glossy appearance, the daily grooming stimulates the circulation.

"The skin is of considerable importance currying and brushing will insure a healthy condition," said Mr. Gray.

"The legs, especially, need daily care. In cold weather if it is necessary to wash them they should be thoroughly dried before being exposed to the open air. Mud should not be allowed to collect on the fetlocks, as it is apt to cause scratches and sores on the heels and about the feet. Sores, scratches, and unsightly sores are often caused by mud and manure settling in the hair, the drying of the mud causing the skin to crack open.

"In harvest time, particularly, the horses should be kept clean, as long hours of work, dust and sweat, and heat all combine to make proper care of the skin a necessity. Sore shoulders and other afflictions, due to lack of care on the part of the owner, have often caused great loss of time and money."

PROFITABLE TO FEED LAMBS

If Farmer Can Foresee Fifty-Cent Margin They Will Give Results, Says Nebraska Expert.

Many letters are being received at the Nebraska experiment station asking whether or not it is profitable to feed lambs at the present high price of feeders.

If one can get a margin of 50 cents on the selling price over the buying price, it may be a profitable transaction, is the answer of the animal husbandry section of the experiment station. Two years ago, when corn was 60 cents and alfalfa hay $8, gains on lambs cost $4.88 per hundred. Last year with feed at the same price, lambs fed heavily on corn made gains at $5.53 per hundred, and those receiving a medium feed of corn made gains costing $4.90 per hundred. As corn will probably bring 70 cents and alfalfa hay $10 this winter, it is likely gains will cost upwards of six cents a pound. Consequently, a 50-cent margin between buying and selling price should mean a chance for profit to the careful feeder who gets satisfactory gains.

FODDER IS NOT SUFFICIENT

Cannot Be Depended Upon Alone to Carry Stock Through Winter to Best Advantage.

Good shock fodder is good roughage to carry stock cattle in winter, but alone it is not sufficient. If you have some thrifty shotes to follow the cattle, feed broken ear corn. This pays better than to grind the feed and use corn and cob meal. Experiments at the Illinois station show that broken ear corn is practically as good as corn and cob meal from the standpoint of beef production, while hogs following cattle thus fed, make three to four times as much gain as those following cattle getting corn and cob meal.

It will pay to use a little purchased feed such as cottonseed meal, even at relatively high prices. Don't depend on corn fodder and corn alone to carry your stock cattle to best advantage.

BOAR IS IMPORTANT FACTOR

Purebred Should Be Used in All Instances—Best Is None Too Good—Avoid Long Head.

The most important factor in hog breeding is the boar. In all instances use a purebred. Too much emphasis cannot be laid on this.

Choose him from the best as the best is none too good. See that he is well conformed, full of vitality and of good disposition. Avoid a long head, long neck and long legs. See that his stands well up on his toes.

Do not buy a swayback nor one that is too arched. His back should be nearly straight. A little arch won't hurt, but it must not be too pronounced.

DON'T BUY A SILO ON "Take It for Granted Basis"

No other farm equipment serves as useful a purpose as the silo; yet no other equipment is so much bought on the "Take it for Granted" basis. It naturally results in inferior silo equipment being foisted upon the farmer, for which he pays exorbitant prices. Here is the way you can know—not take it for granted—you are getting the best in silo construction, and are paying for no more than you receive. Get posted on the Without reflecting on your silo knowledge, we affirm, Mr. Farmer, that you cannot know—do not know—what a silo construction should be—can be and really is in the Tecktonius—until you know about and see the "Harder Patent Continuous Door Design"—the Tecktonius Self-Adjusting Silo Hoop and Door Fasteners, Silo "Hinge" Door and "Double Check" Anchor System—the really vital factors in all silos.

The Tecktonius Silo is assembled entirely on our yards and sold only by us in this territory. It is equipped complete with the Tecktonius Matchless Fixtures, giving you a silo that cannot be matched in any feature of its construction or service. We also can save you big money on its cost, for we do away with the dozen and one silo profits and extra freight charges you pay the silo manufacturer for inferior silos.

You would not think of buying a "Rake Off" Reaper after seeing the modern binder, would you?

Neither would you think of buying one of these "19th Century" silos after knowing about the "20th Century Tecktonius."

Don't even think of buying a silo until you get posted on the Tecktonius. It will put you "wise" to the shortcomings of the others. Send for

MONUMENT ASSURED

Add to State's Fame.

JEFFERSON DAVIS OBELISK

Hearty Co-operation and Generous Aid of All Citizens Asked.

TO THE PUBLIC:

The undersigned are the Kentucky representatives of the Board of Directors of the Jefferson Davis Home Association.

This corporation owns twenty acres of the place on which Jefferson Davis was born, June 3rd, 1808. It is known as the Jefferson Davis Park, and is in Fairview, Christian and Todd counties, Kentucky. It has been carefully cleared and enclosed with a handsome stone wall. It awaits only the construction of the avenues and a memorial to him for whom it is called. Jefferson Davis, the first and only President of the Confederacy, ranks as one of the historic characters of the world, and is by millions regarded as one of the really great men of America. He was a Kentuckian and his native state will naturally feel a pride in the story of his courage, his patriotism, his intellectual attainments and his noble dignity under cruel humiliation, and indefensible persecution.

The design of the memorial is that of an Egyptian obelisk. The monument will be 351 feet high, the second highest similar structure in the world, surpassed only by the Washington monument. It is the most superb and imposing of all the monuments in the South, and it must not be forgotten that the South has built more monuments to its heroes, living and dead, than were built to any cause, civil, religious or political, in the world's history.

The superb structure will make Kentucky famous for hundreds of years to come and will cause millions of people to visit the state in the centuries to follow. It will outrank all other Kentucky monuments.

General George W. Littlefield, of Texas, and General Julian S. Carr, of North Carolina, have rendered the success of this enterprise possible by donations, General Littlefield making the largest contribution ever made by any citizen of the South for such a purpose.

We deem ourselves fortunate to have been chosen the leaders in this great enterprise, and we ask the hearty co-operation and generous aid of all Kentuckians in this work which ought forcibly to appeal to the pride of every man and woman in the state. It's very greatness, surely makes it attractive.

SWEPT INTO DEEP WATER

Horse Also Drowned, Search
For Goodall's Body Yesterday Afternoon.

Shortly after noon yesterday, John Goodall, col., driving a one-horse coal wagon owned by Jas. Peyton, col., drove over the approach to the Second street bridge into the swollen stream and Goodall and the horse were both drowned.

Goodall instead of driving on the bridge drove over the fill on the north side of the east approach and was caught in the swift current running over the concrete dam under the bridge and horse, vehicle and driver were swept into the swift current below the bridge and disappeared. Some colored women living near by saw the accident but could render no assistance. They gave the alarm, but Goodall's body did not come to the surface.

The horse and vehicle were swept down the stream to a point near the workhouse, where they lodged. A boat was secured and a search started under the direction of Chief of Police Roper.

Goodall was about 40 years of age and lived near the old fair grounds. Search was abandoned yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock, the body not being found.

BANQUET ON THIRD OF MAY

So Decides the Athenaeum
at the Meeting Thursday Night.

The Athenaeum meeting Thursday night was one of the best held for a long time. Of the 30 members, only five were absent.

Thos. J. McReynolds wrote most entertainingly on "Alaska," giving a vast amount of information about the great territory extending to within a few miles of Russia.

This was followed by a paper by Ira L. Smith on "The Ways and Means of Old Rome," a historical article of great value and most charmingly presented.

Both articles were discussed in many short speeches.

It was voted to hold the annual banquet May 3 and committees were named:

On program—Frank Rives, A. H. Eckles and H. W. Linton.

On arrangements—Pettus White, L. H. Davis and E. L. Weathers.

Those present were: Frank Rives, A. H. Eckles, H. W. Linton, Lewis Powell, C. M. Thompson, P. B. Brooks, Manning Brown, F. M. Stites, T. J. McReynolds, T. C. Underwood, L. E. Foster, J. A. LITTLE MISS
KATHRYN E. SHEPARD
DANVILLE, PENNA.

No one but a mother knows the terrors of croup. In the hope that other mothers will find the same relief she experienced, Mrs. Benj. Shepard, 27 Spruce St., Danville, Pa., writes—

"I have used your Vick's VapoRub Salve, and would not be without it in my house. I have tried it for spasmodic croup and it acted like a charm. My little girl breathed easier in about ten minutes after I rubbed her throat and chest with VapoRub, and she went to sleep and never woke until morning. Other times I used to have to sit up all night with her, afraid to go to bed. So I will gladly recommend it to any mothers for croup."

You just apply Vick's VapoRub Salve over throat and chest, covering with a warm flannel cloth. The body heat releases antiseptic vapors that are inhaled with each breath, loosening the phlegm. A real "Bodyguard in the home" against all cold troubles. Three sizes, 25c, and up. At all druggists.

Modern tendencies in monument work are inclined toward simplicity and massiveness in design and construction. We are equipped to embody your own ideas of design in the memorial you seek to have built. Let us furnish you a design and estimate.

SHARP REACTION IN FOOD PRICES

Potatoes Drop to Six Cents a Pound in Gotham—City Selling Foodstuffs.

New York, Mar. 2.—Twenty thousand pounds of Pacific coast smelt from Seattle arrived here yesterday and was placed on sale at more than forty stores throughout the city at six cents a pound to relieve the high price of food, it was announced by George W. Perkins, chairman of the mayor's food committee.

The food committee also has on hand Mr. Perkins said, 500,000 pounds of Brazilian brown beans which will be offered to the public at small cost Monday, while a great quantity of rice is also being held in reserve to be thrown on the market should there be any attempt by dealers to hold back supplies and drive the price up. Hominy is another commodity the committee is holding in large amounts to be used in relieving a high market if necessary.

POTATOES TAKE DROP.

There was a reaction in the food situation Thursday and dealers who a few days ago bought potatoes and onions and offered them at high prices, were willing to sell at a loss to themselves. It was announced by Joseph Hartigan, commissioner of weights and measures. The onion market, the commissioner said, "is completely demoralized," dealers who bought at from $10 to $13 per hundred pounds now offering them at from $5 to $7. The retail price of potatoes dropped to 6 cents a pound compared to eight and 9 cents a week ago.

Commissioner Hartigan asserted he had received an offer from two Pacific coast states to supply large quantities of potatoes at four cents a pound. Owing to the continuance of a boycott against live poultry by housewives on the East Side, few sales were made today, although it was twenty-five carloads were received here.

Mrs. Quinn's Experience
Ought to Help You Over the Critical Period.

Lowell, Mass.—"For the last three years I have been troubled with the Change of Life and the bad feelings common at that time. I was in a very nervous condition, with headaches and pain a good deal of the time so I was unfit to do my work. A friend asked me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which I did, and it has helped me in every way. I am not nearly so nervous, no headache or pain. I must say that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the best remedy any sick woman can take."

—Mrs. MARGARET QUINN, Rear 259 Worthen St., Lowell, Mass.

Other warning symptoms are a sense of suffocation, hot flashes, headaches, backaches, dread of impending evil, timidity, sounds in the ears, palpitation of the heart, sparks before the eyes, irregularities, constipation, variable appetite, weakness, inquietude, and dizziness.

If you need special advice, write to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential), Lynn, Mass.

RECOGNIZED BRAND AT ONCE

How Mrs. Schofield Knew That Daughter's Husband Had Not Hitherto Been Carefree Bachelor.

Here is some inside dope on how to tell a married man. The system is made known by Mrs. Anna Schofield, who has just helped her daughter secure an annulment of her marriage as wife No. 2. Ma Schofield says marriage brands a man as plain as a hot iron on a cow's hip. When her eagle eye fell upon her new son-in-law she declares that she saw immediately where the harness had rubbed. And then she gave the formula: "Like all average married men, my son-in-law was an artistic flatterer in a way about things wives like to be lied to about. He could praise coffee that everybody knew was vile in such a way that it tasted good. Like his brother benefactors, he knew how to praise his wife's taste, whether good or bad. If a married man says something about another woman he does not neglect to say something a little nicer about his wife. That was my son-in-law. Take tears for instance. Tears break a newly and never-before-married man's heart. He gets all excited about them. But they rolled off that man's feelings like water off a duck. I kept quiet about my suspicions until one day he and daughter were quarrelling. He fought like a married man. He knew when to talk and when to shut up. After that I determined to investigate his career."—New York Sun.

WAR BREAD IN USE IN ITALY

Experts Pronounce It Superior to Products of Bakeries Before the Great Conflict Began.

A war bread of the Italian bakers designed primarily to save manual labor, uses the wheat without milling. As described, its only peculiarity of appearance is a gray color, and the product of the municipal bakery at Bergamo is claimed to be highly pleasing in flavor and more nutritious than flour bread, containing a larger proportion of mineral salts, lecithin and vegetable protein. The sifted and washed grain is soaked in warm water for 48 to 60 hours. The germination—or vitalization—thus set up softens and modifies chemically, and when this has proceeded far enough, the grain is fed into a kneading machine. After triturating and kneading in this machine, the mass is allowed to ferment or rise, like other dough, before placing in the oven. Besides the economy in labor there is a lessening of waste, and the yield of bread from a given quantity of grain is 20 to 30 per cent or more greater than that from grain that has been made into flour. The dark and unpalatable whole-grain bread complained of in some parts of Italy is explained by an agricultural authority as probably due to inferior wheat or poor baking.

There Was a Reason.

Speaking at a dinner the other night, former Gov. Martin H. Glynn of New York said there was usually a reason for most things and told the following story as an illustration:

A colored man was rambling down one of the streets of a southern town one afternoon, when he met a friend. "Look heah, Rastus," exclaimed the colored party, "dey tole me dat yo' done gone nn' married Lilac Washington las' Sunday night."

"De news am c'rect, Jim," answered Rastus with a broad smile. "I done gone married Lilac all right."

"Am dat so?" reflectively returned the other. "Didn't yo' tell me only las' week dat yo' wasn't gwine ter marry anybody as long as yo' libed?"

"Dat's jes' what I did, Jim," admitted Rastus, "but I didn't know at de time dat I was gwine ter lose ma job." —Philadelphia Evening Telegraph.

Curbing Ravages of Aphids.

Announcement has been made by the United States bureau of entomology that great success has attended the efforts to combat the spinach aphids which seriously attacked the truck crops of Virginia year after year. This has been accomplished by the introduction of the spotted lady bird, which is said to have proved very effective in keeping down the aphids. The first efforts in this direction were unsuccessful, owing to the fact that there has been extensive removal of trees and underbrush, and this left no accommodations for the hibernation of the lady birds, which perished during the winter. This has now been taken care of and the ravages of the aphids greatly decreased.

Insects Spread Plant Disease.

The Pennsylvania department of forestry has been making exhaustive investigations with a view to finding out the means of the dissemination of spores of blight fungus which are the causes of numerous tree diseases. There is evidence that insects are principally responsible for the spread of spores, although many of them are, of course, carried by the wind. The results of these investigations suggest also that the spread of other plant diseases is directly traceable to the action of insects.

Old Use of Word.

An English officer, who has been censoring Scottish soldiers' letters, has just been explaining to me that the Scotchmen are awful liars. I confessed surprise, and he gave me this example: "One of them wrote to his wife the other day dat he was absolutely starving, and the fellow was having the best rations he ever got in his life." But it was only of the cold that the Jock was complaining.

CABINET FOR IRONING BOARD

Receptacle That Runs From Floor to Ceiling Ideal Place for Most Necessary Kitchen Utensil.

This built-in cabinet solves the problem of the storage of the ironing board. If hidden it means a burdensome task every time it is drawn from its seclusion.

The cabinet should run from floor to ceiling, and is finished to match other kitchen trim. Materials needed are lumber, six hinges, snap lock and catch and two strips of spring brass about six inches long. The back should be screwed to the wall, but before attaching form a box by nailing six-inch strips on all sides. Build a door frame by fitting three-inch strips along the four edges of box opening.

Before attaching the board build leg which is to support it. Hinge it to the latter with hinges placed on side next to the cabinet. To keep from collapsing, fasten a strip of brass, making a corresponding notch in the upper crosspiece of the leg. The brass will snap into it when leg is dropped. To fold back raise the strip and allow leg to revolve under it. To hold board in position form a catch at top with another piece of brass.—Farm Progress.

The Apartment Dweller.

The apartment dweller is well warmed, lives near his business and his amusements, is close to humankind, and is relieved from the responsibility of a house and from the inconveniences of outdoor duties involved in a detached dwelling. To get all these benefits the apartment dweller is asked to surrender two desirable things, namely, inside room and outside air.—Minneapolis Journal.

A Splendid Tonic.

Cora, Ky.—Mrs. Iva Moore, of this place, says: "I was so weak, I could hardly walk. I tried Cardui, and was greatly relieved. It is a splendid tonic. I have recommended Cardui to many friends, who tried it with good results." Testimony like this comes unsolicited, from thousands of earnest women, who have been benefited by the timely use of this successful tonic medicine, Cardui. Purely vegetable, mild, but reliable, Cardui well merits its high place in the esteem of those who have tried it. It relieves women's pains, and strengthens weak women. It is certainly worth a trial. Your druggist sells Cardui.—Advertisement.

CAKE IMPROVES WITH AGE

Fruit Confection, Richly Made, Is Better if Allowed a Certain Time to "Mellow."

It is not a very unusual thing to be given a taste of a girl's mother's wedding cake at the wedding of the girl herself—which is the same thing as saying that it is not very unusual to taste of fruit cake that has kept well for 20 or 25 years.

Of course, fruit cake to keep well must be very rich—that is, it must contain much fruit. And such cake really improves with age. It can be eaten before it attains the ripe old age of twenty-five years, but it is far better a month after baking than the day after.

Here is a recipe for rich fruit cake: Cream, half a pound of butter and half a pound of brown sugar until rich and light. Then add five eggs, beaten without separating, until creamy. Then add half a teaspoonful each of molasses and brandy and two and one-half cupsful of pastry flour. Then add a pound each of seeded raisins and currants and a half a pound of thinly sliced citron, which have all been mixed with half a cupful of flour. This makes three cupfuls of flour in all that are used. Then mix in a teaspoonful each of nutmeg, mace and cloves, and finally add half a teaspoonful of soda dissolved in warm water. Pour into two bread pans and bake very slowly, for a couple of hours, until well done.

Wrap the cakes in waxed paper when they are baked and pack in a tightly closed metal box. A tin pail with a tight cover is good. A cloth may be wrapped outside of the paper, but the paper should be next to the cake.

Electric Fans For Winter.

Why is it that the first sign of cool weather the electric fan is relegated to the cellar, or the attic, or the storeroom, as the case may be? Simply because the mission of the electric fan is misunderstood, observes the Scientific American. It is looked upon as a device for cooling the air during warm weather, when as a matter of fact it merely stirs the air. If ever there was an efficient way of warming a room during the coldest winter's day it is to place an electric fan near a radiator so that its breeze passes through the heating coils. This results in creating a current of warm air throughout the room; and instead of the heat of the room being confined to the immediate neighborhood of the radiator, it is distributed to the furthest corners of the room. Why not try it?

THE KENTUCKIAN FOR 1917

EVER since the year 1868, the HOPKINSVILLE KENTUCKIAN has been published under one name or another. In 1879 the present name was given and the present management took charge of the paper, which is now in its 39th volume. For almost 40 years it has been a faithful exponent of the growth and development of the city and county. It has written in its files a history of the county covering that long period. It has recorded the birth of three generations in some instances. It has seen the small town develop into a prosperous city with its people ever looking forward to greater things.

During all these years it has had a loyal and constant patronage from the best people of the county. It has many subscribers whose names have not been off its subscription lists in 39 years. In many other families, sons have taken their father's places. We would be ungrateful not to appreciate support like this, but we have never come to the reading public with a stronger appeal for patronage than this year. Conditions have greatly changed and paper stock is three times as high as a year ago.

Many newspapers have advanced rates but in order that the circulation may not be lessened by a higher price the KENTUCKIAN will still be sent for $2.00 a year, the old price. It will be necessary though to adhere rigidly to the cash system, since more than $1.00 must be paid in advance for the paper upon which we print 156 papers and the cost of printing leaves but little profit out of the second dollar. We are asking our old subscribers to stand by us in this crisis by renewing promptly.

All papers not paid for will be Stopped.
Don't Let Yours Stop.

The Price Will be the same $2.00 a Year
as heretofore,

Hopkinsville Kentuckian

The Lowest Price Paid For Trash Was Nearly Nine Dollars.

The big sales of last week were surpassed this week on the loose leaf market and the prices again soared to a point considerably above the season's high average. The lowest quotation for trash was $8.75. The advance here was in the face of the fact that prices elsewhere were reported off in some instances as much as $2 a hundred. The market bids fair to close stronger than it has been at its best. The following quotations are for the week:

METHODIST OCCUPY NEW CHURCH--FIRST REGULAR SERVICES TO BE HELD SUNDAY

Picture of the new Methodist Episcopal Church, of Hopkinsville, Ky., to be opened March 4, 1917 Photo of the pastor, Rev. Lewis Powell, D. D., to the left.

After many months of waiting the Methodist Episcopal church will on tomorrow hold its first services in the elegant new house of worship at Main and Thirteenth streets, vacating the old church at Ninth and Liberty.

The pastor of the church, Rev. Lewis Powell, D. D., will occupy the pulpit both morning and evening. Dr. Powell is in his third year as pastor and the completion of the new building is a great achievement, representing more than two years of hard work.

The lot upon which the church stands was bought for $7,500 several years ago and donated by the late John C. Latham to the congregation. The building itself with its great pipe organ and other furnishings represent an outlay of about $60,000. The contract was let in 1915, ahead of the inflated prices, and the same house now would cost $10,000 to $12,000 more. It was erected by the Forbes Manufacturing Co. and as it stands today, the building is the pride of the Methodists of Kentucky, for they have few if any finer houses in the state. At the same time, it is one of the notable buildings of Hopkinsville, a credit to the enterprise and loyalty of a membership of 800 or 900 of Hopkinsville's most public-spirited citizens.

In addition to the Sunday School and church services to-morrow, there will be at two o'clock in the afternoon a gathering of citizens generally, or as Dr. Powell calls it a Community Reception.

People of other churches and all churches are invited to attend and hear short speeches by a number of local speakers, representing all denominations. The program of this meeting, heretofore published, will be one of the greatest interest.

WEEKLY REPORT

Twenty-five Vessels of All Classes Lost--Total Movement 4,521.

London, Feb. 28.—Following is the British official weekly statement of arrivals and sailings, war losses and unsuccessful attacks on shipping for the week ending Sunday, February 25:

"Arrivals and sailings, merchant vessels of all nationalities (over 100 tons net) at and from United Kingdom ports (exclusive of fishing and local craft)—arrivals, 2,280, sailings, 2,261.

"British merchant vessels sunk by mine or submarine, of 1,690 tons gross net or over, 15; under 1,600 gross, six.

"British merchant vessels unsuccessfully attacked by submarines, 12; British fishing vessels sunk, 4."

ROOM FOR TOTS.

Dr. Powell has addressed the following invitation to mothers:

Mothers begin to bring your children to church next Sunday and keep on bringing them. We have a nursery committee to look after your little ones and care for them while you attend the services. Mrs. Geo. Connell is president of the committee, and the following ladies are her enthusiastic helpers: Mrs. Geo. A. Story, Mrs. J. K. Twyman, Miss Juannette Draper and Miss Malissa Moss. This committee will take charge of the babies and little ones at the close of Sunday school and care for them while the mothers attend divine worship. You may trust this fine committee, for they will always provide some intelligent and competent nurse for the children during the hours of worship or some one of them personally look after the little ones. So make your plans to bring your little ones to Sunday school and plan to remain for the church service.

There is a beautiful rest room furnished and every convenience and comfort. Beds and divans where your little ones may go to sleep.

Miss Mary Walker, primary department, has also a separate division for beginners and your children from two to six years old fall into this department of the primary division. But bring your children of all ages and you will find the primary department installed in Epworth Hall. Hand the little ones over to Miss Mary Walker and she and the nursery committee will do the rest. This is a call for mothers to rally next Sunday.

Affections.

Nashville, Tenn., Feb. 28.—E. C. Tompkins was killed; Will Hoffstetter was fatally shot, and Jim Hoffstetter and Mrs. W. A. Bevington were wounded at the Courthouse here today during the trial in which Tompkins had sued the Hoffstetters for the alienation of his wife's affections.

It is alleged that Tompkins shot the two Hoffstetters and Mrs. Bevington, but he himself was stabbed and killed by Will Hoffstetter before he fell.

Will See No More.

Russell Baas, 27 years old, a bartender, who on February 13 killed Mrs. Mary Harrod Mikesell, 24 years old, a waitress, in her room at 640 South Second street, and then made an unsuccessful attempt to end his life by shooting himself in the temple, will spend the remainder of his life in darkness. A thorough examination made at the city hospital yesterday morning revealed that the bullet destroyed one of his eyes and clipped the optic nerve of the other. From the first it was feared that his sight had been destroyed. The patient will submit to a surgical operation this week. His eyes will be removed. Relatives are arranging to obtain glass eyes for him. He seems in good spirits. Relatives are with him almost constantly. — Courier-Journal.

DOG THAT TALKS

Columbus, Ohio, Bull Terrier
Imitates Sounds Like A Parrot.

A dog which seems to have a parrot's skill in memorizing and imitating words was in New York the other day. Its mistress, Mme. A. E. Richare, of Columbus O., took it to interview a theater manager for a position in vaudeville.

"What do I hand you when you are bad?" Mme. Richare asked, beginning the conversation to show the manager the dog's ability as a conversationalist.

"Lem-on," the dog replied.

"Whom do you love?" she next asked.

"Love my mam-ma," came the answer with amazing distinctness.

"What do you want for dinner?"

"Lamb!" the dog answered loudly.

"And what else?"

"More lamb," it returned.

"Where do you want to go?"

"Home mam-ma."

The dog answered many other questions, but these were its most distinct utterances. Its "mam-ma" "lamb" and "lemon" were enunciated as clearly as though it were a person answering, and the other words were sufficiently clear to be understood readily.

The dog's name is Zyris, an English bull terrier. It is three years old. Mme. Richare has been training it since it was one month old. Another of its accomplishments is talking over the telephone.

MARRIAGES.

Lucian Means, Jr., and Miss Belle Williams were married at the Methodist parsonage late Wednesday afternoon. Dr. Lewis Powell performed the ceremony. The bride is a daughter of Mr. J. H. Williams, of this city, and is a very pretty and attractive young lady. The groom, who is a son of Mr. L. W. Means, is a popular young farmer. The couple will reside on the groom's farm, just west of the city, on the Princeton road.

Eberle-Petsch.

W. A. Eberle, an electrician, of Earlington, and Miss Marie Petsch, daughter of Mr. R. E. Petsch, of near the city, were married Thursday afternoon at the home of the bride, Rev. Virgil Elgin officiating. They will reside at Earlington.

Wright-Boze.

A marriage license has been issued to Parley Wright and Miss Vada Boze. The young people live in North Christian and the wedding is scheduled for Monday, March 5.

Important Announcement

Messrs. Forbes' Mfg. Company, incorporated, announce that on and after March 1st, Mr. Will Hester will aid Mr. Long in looking after their building operations.

What they wish to call particular attention to is their assurance to the public that hereafter all orders for repair work of all kinds, whether Carpenter's work, Plumbing, Painting, Tin work, Wiring or Heating, will be carefully and promptly executed.

They confess that in the past the repair department has not been handled as efficiently as they would like, but that it is now perfectly organized and backed by a big stock to do the work.

They promise that if either W. A. Long, or W. H. Hester, Phone 966, is called, their wants shall be immediately attended to.

After business hours, Mr. Long can be found at Phone 783 and Mr. Hester at Phone 779.
